

METHODISTS APPROVE PLAN OF UNIFICATION

Provides for Merger of Three Great Church Divisions Into One Body.

TO WORK OUT FURTHER DETAILS

Money in Hands of Bonds Intended for Vanderbilt University Ordered Withheld Until Final Decision.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 21.—Tentative plans for the unification of the three great Methodist bodies in America were approved; connectional officers were elected, and a declaration of principles adopted at today's session of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The conference also ordered the withholding of any money now in the hands of the various church boards intended for Vanderbilt University, until payments are authorized by the commission appointed to deal with the Vanderbilt situation. Reports were made by the committee on unification that it had fixed the salaries of active bishops at $4,800 a year, of superintendents at $3,200, and of the payments to widows of bishops at $1,600.

The unification plan provides for the merging of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the Methodist Episcopal Church, North, and the Protestant Methodist Church under the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America, with one faith, one ritual and one general conference, but with four jurisdictional conferences for the four geographical divisions.

Negro members of the three churches and such denominations of that race wishing to unite would be assigned to one of the jurisdictional conferences. The colored Methodist Episcopal Church, however, would be permitted to maintain an independent organization while holding fraternal relations with the united church.

COMMISSION APPOINTED TO WORK OUT FURTHER PLANS

The plan was presented by the joint commission appointed to consider the advisability of federation. The commission was requested to work out further details of the plan.

The officers of the conference include: Publishing agents, Rev. D. M. Smith and Rev. A. J. Lamar; book editor, Rev. G. Ross Alexander; editor Christian Advocate, Rev. T. N. Ivey; Sunday school editor, Rev. E. H. Chappell; missionary secretary, Rev. W. W. Pinson; secretary of church extension board, Rev. W. E. McMurray.

The declaration of principles includes: recognition of the rights of all men; protection of families by the single standard of purity; uniform divorce laws; the proper regulation of marriages; abolition of child labor and child soldiers; the education of children; regulation of the toll for women, which shall safeguard the physical and moral health of communities; protection of society from the social, economic and moral waste of the inner traffic; for the right of all men to the right of self-maintenance; protection of old age of workers; the right of employees and employers alike to organize for the adequate means of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes; for a living wage as a minimum in every industry, and for a new emphasis upon the application of Christian principles to the acquisition of property and an equitable division of the products of industry that can ultimately be divided.

Lehigh, Wash., May 21.—Specials from Lehigh, Wash., say a loss of close to $250,000 was sustained when a forest fire virtually wiped out the business district and burned a number of residences of the town today. There was no water except that taken from wells with which to fight the flames, and although many automobile loads of persons went from Raymond, no real help could be given.

Searched Passing Through Blaze.

South, Wash., May 21.—A dispatch from South Bend, Wash., says the town of Lehigh, a place of 1,000 population, near South Bend, is being destroyed by a forest fire. The last reports received at South Bend from the operator in the Northern Pacific station, who said he was leaving because the depot was on fire. At that time the loss was estimated at $100,000.

YORKTOWN FIGHTS CLOSING OF OLD CUSTOM-HOUSE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Newport News, Va., May 21.—Efforts to abolish the custom-house at Yorktown, Va., the oldest custom-house in the United States, which was founded in 1715, have created strong opposition from the people around York River, and Senator Swanson has been prevailed upon to oppose the matter before the treasury department.

Collector of Customs Norman R. Hamilton, who went to Yorktown today to visit Deputy Collector O'Hara on a field visit, said that it is opposed to abolishing the Yorktown office for both sentimental and business reasons. Its predecessor, Floyd Hughes, recommended the closing of the office.

The Yorktown office costs the government just $200 a year and in it are registered a large number of vessels lying in and around the York River. Her owners contend that it would work a hardship for them to have to port to the Newport News office.

Eighteen Winning Game.

Harrisonburg, Va., May 21.—A valley baseball record was probably made today when the Reliance, Warren county, when the Shenandoah College Institute team from Dayton, Cockeysburg County, defeated the Old Dominion Academy team by a score of 2 to 18 in eighteen innings.

ROOSEVELT IS HAILED AS 'NEXT PRESIDENT'

Colonel Shows Teeth in Expansive Smile as Fifth Avenue Crowd Cheers Him.

REFUSES TO TALK POLITICS

Will Keep Silent Until He Returns From Madrid, Then Don't Know What He Will Do.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, May 21.—Colonel Roosevelt grinned joyously when a huge throng, on Fifth Avenue, to-day hailed him as the "next President."

The Colonel had come to town from Oyster Bay for a day of rushing activity, embracing a call at his tailor's to be measured for clothes to wear to Madrid, where Kermit Roosevelt is to wed Miss Willard. Just before going to the tailor, Colonel Roosevelt dropped into the offices of a magazine on Fifth Avenue to turn in manuscript for his trip down the Rio Duvida. For two hours the former President conferred with the magazine editors, and about 11 o'clock started out.

In the meantime a crowd of 2,500 had massed itself in the street.

As Roosevelt walked with brisk stride toward the motor car awaiting him at the curb, loud cries went up.

The ex-President paused as he climbed into the car, and, raising his Panama hat high in the air, swung it around, beaming upon the crowd.

COLONEL SHOWS TEETH IN AN EXPANSIVE SMILE

When a chorus of voices acclaimed him as the next President, Roosevelt showed his teeth in an expansive smile.

So dense was the crowd and so insistent upon shaking hands with the Colonel, that traffic police had to ride their horses through it to allow Roosevelt's car to get through.

At the tailor's the Colonel was measured for half a dozen suits of clothes, including a dress suit for his son's marriage ceremony. The tailor found the Roosevelt gift much narrower than before the Colonel went on the South American exploring trip. Roosevelt urged him not to make the fit too tight, remarking that he "might get some of the lost weight back."

From the tailor's Roosevelt went to the home of his son, Theodore, Jr., for lunch, and after that visited the offices of the publication for which he is contributing editor. He dashed off an editorial, shook hands with Dr. Lyman Abbott and the other editorial chiefs, paused in the outer offices while the copy-checkers and clerks checked his work, and climbed into his automobile at 4 o'clock headed for Oyster Bay.

LOOKS MUCH STRONGER THAN DAY HE ARRIVED

Roosevelt looked much stronger than the day he came in from Brazil. While the thick tropical tan had been somewhat bleached, his face looked less worn than when he came home. His step was sprightlier, and, in fact, he seemed more like the Roosevelt of former days.

"I'm feeling as lively as a cricket," exclaimed the Colonel. "My two days in Oyster Bay have brought me back to lively health. I'm all right now."

The Colonel had not a word to say on politics.

"I'll not go into politics until I've returned from Madrid," he said.

"After that I don't know what I'll do."

The Colonel intended motoring from Oyster Bay to go to the American Museum of Natural History to see the layout of trophies of his jungle trip, but time was too short.

FIRST TRUMPET CALL SOUNDED BY PINCHOT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 21.—From Sumner Hill to-night came the first trumpet call to arms sounded by Gifford Pinchot, progressive candidate for Senator in Pennsylvania; E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the Philadelphia North American; William Draper Lewis, progressive candidate for the governorship of Pennsylvania; George W. Perkins, and Walter Brown, of Ohio, chairman of the central committee. Pinchot declared that his faith in the integrity of the rank and file of the Republican party served to calm in his mind any doubt about the election of Pinchot.

As much as it was the Colonel's first political statement since his return and more or less an open flirtation with the Republican writers, the Colonel's words were to indicate the way the campaign plans are shaping behind the closed doors of the Roosevelt library.

"Cries come up when it is the duty of all good citizens to sink ordinary party differences and stand up either against rampant wrongdoing in public life or against policies fatal to the welfare of the nation at home and to the honor of the nation abroad," said the Colonel. "Any good citizen should on such occasions stand together with regard to party party differences. I have confidence in the integrity of the rank and file of the Republican party, and that they will support Mr. Pinchot."

WILL STUMP CALIFORNIA IN BEHALF OF JOHNSON

The Colonel declared that he had communicated with Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, and had promised to stump that State in behalf of his old running mate when the latter seeks re-election to the governorship. "I cannot tell you just what the Colonel, having been discussing," said the Colonel, waving his hand toward his war board sitting around the long library table, "but I am safe in saying that our discussions are not all of a literary nature."

Appropos the latest testimony of Charles S. Mellen in regard to Roosevelt's advice about selling to Charles W. Morse the steamship lines of the New Haven Railroad, the Colonel said: "I refer you to Herbert Knox Smith, who was then corporation commissioner, and who knew all about my conversation with Mellen. Mr. Smith has gone over the entire matter in great detail, and there is no earthly use in going over that again."

SAGAMORE HILL STAGE

Sagamore Hill, so the rumor goes to-night, will be the stage for a real war council on Sunday. A dozen torch-bearers of the Bull Moose crusaders are scheduled to be present, and the first definite lines of battle will be settled upon. No fewer than 100 telegrams and official letters were received by the Colonel to-day, and the most profound secrecy is being maintained.

Neighbor Roosevelt was welcomed back to Oyster Bay this afternoon, and no more splendid was the return of Rhadames to Egypt. All that part of Nassau County free from toll and sick-

To make the day complete, the Colonel, standing overcoat and hat in hand in an automobile, made a speech, promising to visit Oyster Bay, free of charge, all about the favor of Doubt and the eating of monkeys in Brazil at some future date.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., May 21.—It is understood that Augustus Lukeman, the New York artist who designed and executed the monument to the North Carolina Women of the Confederacy, to be unveiled in Capitol Square June 10, will donate the plaster cast for the bronze figure, which will be the crowning feature of the monument, to the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro. This idea is heartily approved by the members of the State Historical Commission, and, if made, the donation will be through the commission. The bronze figure for the monument has arrived and is already set up on the pedestal in the huge box in which it was shipped. The monument will be completed by the date for the unveiling.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Two new corporations for North Carolina have been chartered to-day and another had its charter amendment registered. They follow: The Charlotte Elks Home Corporation, capital $100,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by F. L. Black, J. A. Yarbrough, J. D. Belboeue, J. Hahn and others for providing an Elks home.

The State Department of Insurance has been notified that Rev. A. Stroud, negro preacher, has been bound over to court in Robeson County for representing an unlicensed Georgia insurance company in Lumberton and vicinity.

College Will Be Enlarged.

In connection with the commencement exercises of Peace Institute, just closed, there was launched by the trustees a movement for a very considerable enlargement of the college with needed new buildings and additions to the equipment, making it one of the largest and best equipped Presbyterian colleges for girls in this part of the country. The college is now entirely owned and controlled by the church, the synod and the local church owning the controlling stock.

State Treasurer R. R. Lacy, Just Back from Davidson College commencement and attendance upon the exercises of the board of trustees of the college, says that the past year has been especially successful in the affairs of the college. This is the first year in a long time that the college has not ended the year with a floating debt. The affairs of the college have been put on the most approved business basis, and the college assets now round out a good three-quarters of a million dollars. The degree of doctor of literature was conferred at this commencement on Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, and Mr. Lacy says that the address by Mr. Daniels was especially well received.

Excursions.

The closing exercises for the Raleigh public schools were held to-night in the High School auditorium, J. W. Bailey delivering the address. There were twenty-five graduates from the High School department who receive certificates entitling them to enter most any of the colleges of the State of the country. A number of medals and other prizes were awarded. The graduates are Julia Jordan, Emma Jones, Thelma Naylor, Grace Jeffers, Naomi Alford, Sara Edwards, Virginia Ammon, Annie Ervin, Lena Barrow, Ruth Campbell, Mildred Anderson, Marion Bickell, Victoria Mial, Ralph McDonald, Isaac Schwartz, Hermal Stephenson, Thomas Harrison, William Rogers, Stuart Crinkley, William Dewar, Wilmer Betts, Lester Sellison, Peter Lynch, Joseph Davis, Edward Adams.

GOVERNMENT REGULATION WILL LOWER DEATH RATE

Charlotte, N. C., May 21.—Speaking at a pure food exhibit, at which representatives of 200 manufacturers are present, Commissioner of Agriculture J. Watson, of South Carolina, declared that government regulation of food products would lower the death rate of the nation 20 per cent. He contended that pellagra, fast becoming the most dreaded disease in the South, is caused by rotten cornmeal imported from other sections. Infantile paralysis, so deadly in its effects, he said, is largely caused by the use of skimmed condensed milk.

"LAST DITCH" BATTLE EXPECTED BY REBELS

Queretaro Place Constitutionalists Declare Will Mark End of Huerta Regime.

FEDERALS EVACUATE SALTILLO

Telegrams Asking for Information About U. S. Consul Stillman Not Yet Answered.

Juarez, May 21.—One "last ditch" battle will conclude the present revolutionary movement in Mexico if the news that Saltillo has been evacuated by the Federal garrison is true. Official news of the evacuation came to the local press to-day in a message from General Philip Angeles, Constitutional Minister of War.

Queretaro already, where famous has been the spot where periods of unrest have been concluded in Mexico, is the place local officials declare will mark the end of the Huerta regime.

No word has been received here regarding the entry of Constitutional troops into Saltillo, and it is not believed an immediate movement to bring about the fall of Villa's army, to that point will be made. The Federal road to Saltillo from Paredon still is in unprepared condition, and need of haste is not regarded as pressing. The next move of Villa's army, it is said, undoubtedly will be toward San Luis Potosi, but that move will not be a hurried one.

Preparations for the final struggle at Queretaro began to-day. General Juan Perez Romero was ordered to proceed with a strong force from Tuxpan, on the Gulf coast, to the State of Queretaro.

TROOPS ORDERED LEFT IN VERA CRUZ VICINITY

General Candido Aguilar in command at Tuxpan, has been ordered to leave the larger portion of his 5,000 troops in the vicinity of Vera Cruz to prevent the troops of General Garcia Pena and Ruben Navearte from reaching the battlefield at Queretaro or returning to the capital.

Francisco Villa with fully 25,000 men may move southward unobstructed. From Tampico, General Pablo Gonzalez with 7,000 veterans, is preparing to march on the city of Vera Cruz. General Francisco Murguia, with a force of 1,300, is moving southward to join his command to that of General Villa.

Aguilar and Colonel Romero are now in from the eastward with 10,000 men. They are being held up under General Obregon have cleared the way for an advance.

To the south of Mexico City, Emiliano Zapata is threatening the capital. As soon as the news of the evacuation of Saltillo was received here, Constitutional officials telegraphed General Francisco Villa asking news of the capture of General Stillman, United States consul at Saltillo, who was imprisoned by the Federalists, but whose release repeatedly has been reported from Mexico City. No answer had been received up to a late hour to-night.

Chicago, Ill., May 21.—Rev. Maitland Alexander, of the First Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, was chosen moderator of the 22nd General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States by acclamation to-day. His selection without opposition came as a surprise, and was hailed by the conservative element as a victory, although the progressive element insisted that Dr. Alexander was entirely satisfactory to all.

Rev. Aquila Webb, of Louisville, who had the support of Southern synods, withdrew from the race, moving that nominations be closed.

AGED AMERICAN WOMAN FOUND DYING IN TRAIN

Shot Through Right Temple, and Is Removed to Hospital at Florence.

ATTACKED BY YOUNG ITALIAN

Man Enters Compartment Which She Occupies Alone, Shoots and Then Robs Her.

Florence, Italy, May 21.—An American woman, Mrs. Mary E. Flaville, of Chicago, according to police identification, was found in a dying condition in the compartment of a train when it arrived at Arezzo to-day. The train was bound from Florence for Assisi. The woman had been shot through the right temple, and was removed to a hospital.

In her pocketbook was found a letter of credit for $1,300 which had been cashed in part. No hand bags, ticket or letters were found, but a baggage label with the name "Mrs. Flaville" was picked up and on the seat lay a visiting card reading "Miss Blanche Marie Harcourt," which bore bloody finger prints. The woman's hand bag was found later alongside the track.

SUFFICIENTLY REVIVES TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

At a hospital the woman was sufficiently revived to answer a few questions. She had taken the train at Florence and was alone in the compartment. Her assailant was a young Italian, who entered the compartment and shot her, and then robbed her. She said she was sixty years of age and is married. Mrs. Flaville to-night lapsed into a state of coma.

According to the train hands, she occupied the compartment alone. In the next compartment was a man of about thirty. He did not act suspiciously, but at Arezzo left the train from the wrong side.

It is supposed the crime occurred in a tunnel just outside of Arezzo. It was along the tracks at that point that the valise and a pair of woman's gloves, stained with blood, were found.

The police to-night believed they had established that the woman's assailant returned from Arezzo on the next train for Florence.

BELIEVED TO BE CHICAGO SETTLEMENT WORKER

Chicago, May 21.—The woman shot in a train compartment near Arezzo, Italy, it is believed here, was Mrs. Mary E. Flaville, a Chicago settlement worker.

Mrs. Flaville left October 1 for a trip around the world. Recent letters from Rome said that she contemplated a trip to Florence.

FORESTRY COMMISSION BUYS VIRGINIA LANDS

Tracts to Become Part of Appalachian Forest Range Lands Purchases Part of Vanderbilt Estate.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Washington, May 21.—The National Forestry Commission to-day purchased for the government 6,170 acres of forest land in what is known as the Massanutten area in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia at a price of $2.13 per acre, and 3,332 acres in the Potomac area, on the Shenandoah River, about the Virginia and West Virginia line in Hardy County, W. Va., and Shenandoah County, Va., at a cost of $3.91 per acre. These tracts along with other lands previously purchased in this section, are to become a part of the Appalachian forest range lands secured by the government for the protection of the Appalachian watershed.

The commission also purchased almost the entire Vanderbilt estate about Asheville and Biltmore, N. C., consisting of 86,700 acres of Pisgah forest for $5 an acre, or a total of $433,500. The Vanderbilts retain about 400 acres around Buck Spring Lodge and about 11,000 acres surrounding the family home. The purpose of the commission is to turn Pisgah forest into a national game preserve, and means have already been adopted for co-operation between the State of North Carolina and the Federal government to bring this about.

G. H. M.

One day I thought I would give Cardul, the woman's tonic, a trial. I had no confidence in it at all, but bought a bottle. In a few days I was up and doing my housework. Now I have gained 15 pounds and feel as well as I ever felt in my life.
